

Community Service 2011 Company of the Week: The Financial Services Roundtable
Financial Literacy Scholarship
Week of August 14, 2011

Roundtable Honors High School Students with Scholarships for Completing Financial Literacy Course

The Financial Services Roundtable Financial Literacy Scholarship honors high school seniors from throughout the country who successfully completed a financial literacy course before entering college with a $5,000 scholarship. Ten financial literacy scholarships were awarded to students for college in 2011. The 2011 scholarship recipients are:

- Crystal Carr, Detroit, MI
- Danielle Cureton, Bronx, NY
- Karla Flores, Thornton, CO
- Ana Lanfranchi, Atlantic Highlands, NJ
- Patrick McCarthy, Washougal, WA
- Kendall Moore, Madison, MS
- Tyler John Redshaw, Henrico, VA
- Julio Rojas-Aguilar, Galloway, NJ
- Yeng Thao, Appleton, WI
- Anna Yermolov, Ephrata, PA

The recipients were selected by a review committee of representatives from the Roundtable's non-profit partners:

- JA Worldwide®
- Jump$tart Coalition for Personal Financial Literacy
- NeighborWorks America
- Operation HOPE, Inc.
- Rebuilding Together
- SER-Jobs for Progress National, Inc.
- Society for Financial Education and Professional Development
- ThanksUSA
- Women's Institute for a Secure Retirement (WISER)
- Women in Housing & Finance Foundation

Roundtable member companies hosted scholarship presentations at their local branches and offices in the recipients' hometowns.
